Trocaire Lenten Campaign 2021

This year Trocaire's Lenten Campaign will focus on exploring the Impact of Conflict on Families in South Sudan. This Lent, we learn more about the suffering of people who have lost their homes and loved ones to war, and how they are rebuilding their lives through love, friendship and solidarity. Parish resources are now available at Parishes - Resources | Trocaire \(trocaire.org\))

Irish Cancer Society are looking for volunteers to drive patients to and from their chemotherapy treatments. Drivers with a free weekday availability and who can commit to driving twice a month.

Please email Gail at gflinter@irishcancer.ie or call 01 2310 566 for an application form. Due to the impact of the Coronavirus we are seeking drivers under the age of 70 years.

Covid advice continues- sanitise, social distance wear masks. We are prolife which means all lives are To be protected. To protect each other churches are closed as Covid 19 can remain on pews and shrines for a long period and daytime sanitizing of pews is not possible. Singing is not possible as aerosol transmission has a wider reach than conversation. This includes gatherings.

Contributions

We thank all who continue to contribute and keep parish finance healthy

You can contribute by using DONATE button on website or by dropping envelopes into the Parish Office during Office Hours.

The Parish wishes to announce its support for the establishment of the

Enniskerry Sustainable Energy Community (SEC).

The SEC, with the backing of the SEAI, seeks to improve the energy efficiency of our homes and buildings in our community, creating savings for occupants and benefitting the environment. An excerpt from the homily of Dr Dermot Farrell at his installation as Archbishop of Dublin on Tuesday 2nd February

Today, I stand before you more than aware of my own inadequacies. But you and I also stand before God, the giver of gifts (see Matt 6:25-33), who is our hope and our help (see Pss 61:5, 26:1). It is a daunting task, but I am sufficiently acquainted with the calls of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Mary and others to realise that the enormity of the challenge is more than matched by the power of the One who has called me.

I am happy to embrace this new mission. I come to you with hope in my heart. It is not a naïve hope that everything will be better tomorrow, but a hope born of a conviction that transcends these difficult days through which we are living, and a hope that transcends the limits of our own capabilities. Faith is not an invitation to put up with life's difficulties and frustrations. Rather, faith asks us to see these as a time of grace. This time—both in the crisis that is the global pandemic, and in the many crises confronting the Church—this very time, with all its frustration and fear, is rich with possibilities, already carrying the future, overflowing with Christ (see Walter Burghardt, Sir, We would like to See Jesus, p. 36). What we do in the coming months and years, how we live out of these challenges and opportunities, will define who we really are as a people of faith. We must embrace the future: after all, today and tomorrow are God's gift to us. Christ goes before his disciples: we follow.

Through the working of the Spirit, through the Church—the community of believers—Christ continues to come into our history, into our time; it is women and men who are 'capable of speaking with God, of entering into God's mystery' who make Christ accessible to the culture, and extend the reality of Christ into the world.

I look forward to your ongoing collaboration and support, as together we continue to serve the people of the Diocese. 'How important it is to dream together...By ourselves, we risk seeing mirages, things that are not there. Dreams, on the other hand, are built together' (Fratelli Tutti, 8). Everyone in this diocese—laity, priests and deacons, religious, all who embrace apostolic charisms, as well as the women and men called to a more contemplative way—has something essential to contribute to the future of the faith in Dublin.

It is the future of the faith that calls us. 'If everything remains as it was, if we spend our days content that 'this is the way things have always been, 'then (God's) gift vanishes, smothered by the ashes of fear, and by the anxiety of defending the status quo (Pope Francis, Homily at Opening of the Amazon Synod, October 6, 2019). Rather than being focused short-sightedly on the glory of the past, and the magnificent institutions which our sisters and brothers before us built—old wineskins, to use the Lord's phrase—we need to accept the responsibility of mission as we experience it now.

Page 2 Bishop Dermot's homily

It is how we embrace this mission that is going to make the difference.
We can only do this together. Walking together is the way of community.

‘Walk(ing) together is the constitutive way of the Church’

But the future is God's gift to us. I come to Dublin knowing very few of you. But such is our experience all through life: we come to new places, we meet new people, and we are changed, we are enriched. We live in new ways. There is no pre-packaged plan to address the reality in which we find ourselves. There is a redirection; there are way markers, we know them well: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control (see Gal 5:22-23). They call us to build, or to re-build parishes marked by welcome, openness, forgiveness, resilience, and courage. They call to the service of communities which put flesh on new ways of living in our common home (see in particular, Laudato Si 2), and of praising the One who gives us life (see John 6:33)

Youth Initiatives—Faithfest Online

Faithfest is an event for Teenagers. It aims to build spaces where teenagers have an experience of a peer community, explore faith, and encounter an experience of welcoming, belonging, discipleship, worship and prayer in a creative and fun atmosphere.

Join us for an evening of games, music, workshop, chats and prayer.

Faithfest will take place 5 March from 6:30pm– 8:30pm online.

Support Services

Irish Hospice Foundation - Living with Loss
